Electronic Remittance

When things go wrong:

ERA Delays

Charges Forced to Manual Entry

Agreements to Receive More ERA

Electronic Remittance

ERA Delays

Federally (ACA) mandated CAQH CORE EFT & ERA Operating Rules effective 1/1/2014

To address the burden associated with delays between receipt of an EFT and an ERA, the ACA requires health plans to release the ERA for transmission to the health care provider:

- No sooner than three business days prior to the date identified in the Stage 1 payment initiation transmission as the date the health plan intends to provide funds to the payee via EFT (the Effective Entry Date).
- No later than three business days after the Effective Entry Date identified in the Stage 1 payment initiation.

Electronic Remittance

ERA Delays

3 business days after the deposit check date contact PCC to open a case with the following:

1. Check/EFT transaction trace number
2. Check amount
3. Check/Deposit date
4. Copy of EOB/Remit (from Payer Portal)

Agreements to receive more ERA

Send PCC a copy of a recent paper EOB.

If you look up your EOB from a payor portal, download the EOB as a PDF and send to PCC.

If you do not have an EOB, send PCC a patient example with the plan name and payor ID.

Session Takeaways

1. Eligibility responses, alerts, and explanations. How to fix or when to try again versus when to call PCC.
2. How to read claim information and confirm the information you sent was correct.
3. How to understand responses, smart edits, and rejections.
4. Maximize ERA use, update what autoposts, and minimize manual payment posting.
